MONEY FOR BONDOUT BRIDGE FIRST ON LIST OF GREENE'S REQUESTS

Work To Go On Anyway While Money Now Available Lasts — Commissioner Hopes To Complete Structure For Xmas Present This Year.

Secretary Hudson, of the Chamber of Commerce, said this morning that Mayor Canfield, chairman of the chamber's special committee on the bondout bridge, has received a letter from State Commissioner of Highways Frederick S. Greene, in which Commissioner Greene says: "It is my earnest hope that we will be able to present this bridge to the people of Kingston as a complete structure on December 24, 1920, and you may depend upon it, that I will do everything in my power to fulfill this desire."

Commissioner Greene says further that he has received the complete plans and typewritten specifications for the bridge, that he is going over the specifications and will advertise the bridge for an early letting. It is understood that the letting of the contracts will probably take place in February and that his construction will be pushed on within the limits of the present appropriation.

Commissioner Greene in his annual report has called attention to the need for an additional appropriation to complete the structure.

He places this first among the special appropriations which he asks this year.

Kingston will lead earnest support to this appropriation in order to avoid having an uncompleted gap left in the structure at the point at which the present appropriation is exhausted.

Extracts from Commissioner Greene's annual report follow:

There now exists a gap at Kingston on Route 3, the direct highway between Albany and New York on the west bank of the Hudson. For years a bridge has been contemplated to span Rondout creek but for reasons comprehensible to the present commission the project has never been completed. This route is one of the most important and consequently one of the most heavily traveled in the State. At present all traffic is forced to depend upon a privately owned and antiquated chain ferry which, while possibly interesting as an ancient relic, is not only inadequate to accommodate the traffic, but also operates entirely between 10:30 a. m. and 6 p. m. Designs for several types of bridges have been made to cross this creek; and in 1916 a contract was awarded for the foundations. This contract, due to war conditions, was not completed and was cancelled by the commission on June 6, 1919. In 1918 it became apparent that there was not sufficient funds to construct this bridge as then designed and to meet this deficiency the legislature made a special appropriation of $129,000.

Upon taking office the present commission found that proposals to complete the bridge as then designed were to be received on April 22, 1919. After a study of the plans and a conference with the engineer who had designed the bridge, we had grave doubts as to the stability of the structure if built as designed. Two heavy steel arches, springing from foundations resting on rock at both shores, were planned to meet at a central point where they were to be supported upon a pile foundation. The plans did not call for the piles of the center pier to be driven other to hardpan or to ledge rock, but into a deposit of loose rock or boulders; in addition a majority of the piles were to be driven on a batter, and finally the piles were to be headed beyond the limit of safety, permitted by best engineering practice. We at once submitted the plans to Daniel E. Moran, C. E., of New York City, an authority on foundations. Mr. Moran confirmed our fears and stated that there was positive danger of settlement; that the center or main foundation as designed was unsafe. In order to safeguard the state we withdrew the bridge from the letting.

We immediately began a new design and at first considered a design of several masonry arches and a steel truss to span the stream. We thought by distributing the load between several piers we would not only secure a safe design but one that would better fit the ground and meet the conditions and difficulties to be overcome. Before working out details of this design, however, we had additional designs made to be definitely determined foundation conditions. As these designs progressed they showed that to secure safe foundations between the rock banks would be an difficult and expensive that the masonry structure was abandoned as impracticable and we have now designed a suspension bridge with the towers resting upon ledge rock at both shores. Contract for the cable anchors for this bridge was awarded November 6, 1919, and the work in preparing autochthonous and in securing attention to the construction of the bridge.

We have designed a bridge which is entirely free from ornamentation and is an impressive structure and will be planned to carry the traffic and to bring to the advanced road of the river and material there will be required an additional appropriation.

Reference is made to special appropriations which are asked to be made this year, the first to be mentioned being the bondout bridge, and a statement is made that special bills will be prepared carrying the same and presented to the legislature.

ECKERT GIVES HIMSELF UP

To New Jersey Authorities on Old Charge of Manlaughter—Had Been Told While in Army That Authorities Did Not Wish To Push Case.

Peter Eckert, who was indicted in Hudson county, New Jersey, on a charge of manslaughter back in 1917 for the alleged killing of a woman while he was driving an automobile, on Monday went to New Jersey and gave himself up to the authorities on advice from his attorney, Judge William D. Brinley, Jr. Eckert was indicted by the grand jury of Hudson county but his case was never brought to trial. He became a member of the A. E. F. and while in France received notice that the authorities in New Jersey did not wish to push the case. Upon discharge from the army Eckert came to his home here and lived here for some time. A few weeks ago the Jersey authorities asked for his arrest and he was placed under arrest and held pending the process of getting extradition papers.

Last Wednesday Judge William D. Brinley, Jr., appeared before Governor Smith and asked for time before the papers were signed, in order to investigate the matter and find out what had been done when Eckert was arraigned. The New Jersey officers were opposed to the granting of more time. Judge Brinley was granted four days extension of time before extradition papers would be signed by the governor.

As this four days extension of time elapsed Monday, Eckert left town for Jersey for the purpose of giving himself up to the New Jersey authorities. At the time of Eckert's arrest he was committed to the county jail for ten days and at the expiration of that time the Jersey authorities had not come for him and he was released from custody on demand of his wife who appeared and asked that he be discharged.

NO "SING" THIS EVENING

The "sing committee" has deemed it advisable not to hold the usual weekly sing this evening. The very severe weather makes it difficult for a great many of those who have been regular in attendance to get to the high school.

Next week's "sing" will be bigger and better than ever and it is hoped that the attendance will reflect the general interest which has so far been shown in a way to indicate the community sing is a permanent city activity.

SHRINERS WORK HARD FOR BALL

The Shriners' ball, which will be held at the armory on Monday evening, February 16, promises to be the greatest event of its kind ever held by the local Shrine. Having a reputation of always doing everything in a faultless manner, the committee in charge of the ball this season is striving to outdo all previous seasons, in such a thing is possible.

There is considerable hard work attached to making these affairs such a success, but the local Shriners are leaving nothing undone to make this the best dance of the season. The proceeds of this year will be devoted to the Industrial Home.

Not only will the ball be of interest to the local people but Shriners from all along the Hudson river are planning to make the evening of February 16 an evening of pleasure. Several members of other Shrines have signified their intention of coming to Kingston with a delegation to participate in the event. The following letter has been received from a member of the Newburgh Shrine:

Newburgh, Jan. 13, 1920. Aaron Cohen, Kingston, N. Y. "Dear Cohen:—Having heard of the Shriners' dance to be held in Kingston on the 16th of February, I am making every effort to be on hand. It will give me great pleasure to be with you as I can easily foretell what a good time is in store for those who attend."

"Fraternally yours," "U. SMITH."

County Hotel Aired.

The doors of the Ulster county jail were thrown wide open this morning as the windows in case of a complete airing. The two court prisoners, Morrell and Bane, the former awaiting trial for stealing a touring car at Saugerties, and the latter for arson near Elm Kingston, were taken down stairs during the airing process and the five other inmates, two being in for vagrancy, one for a short sentence, and one for non-support of their wives, were not shivering above, being taken to the kitchen.

Said At Foreclosure.

Broome as referee sold at the court house, Monday, under a judgment of foreclosure forty-eight acres of cleared land and twelve acres of wood land in the town of Exeter, in the action of Robert C. Stedley against Franklin J. P. Stedley and Elsie V. Stedley. A writ of habere facias for $1,000 was returned by the sheriff.

ULSTER'S OLDEST PRINTER DEAD

George F. Heath, Aged 91, Began the Trade in England and Spent Over Half Century on Newspapers in Ulster and Sullivan Counties.

George F. Heath, well known throughout Ulster and Sullivan counties as the veteran printer, died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. George H. Westcott, at North Tarrytown, on Friday, January 16, having passed his 91st birthday on December 10, 1919. Mr. Heath was born at Beeston, four miles from Nottingham, England, December 10, 1828, and in April, 1845, entered the office of the Nottingham Review as an apprentice to learn the printing business, being bound for seven years. About two years later his father with the deceased and two older brothers and a domestic who had been in the family many years, embarked for America. The domestic died after only one week on the passage. Upon their arrival they remained in New York for a short time and then the family moved to Woodbourne, N. Y., where the father taught the district school. Later the father, James T. Heath, returned to England. The elder brother purchased a home at Woodbourne and did farming but it did not appeal of his brother, who went to Monticello and into the Watchman office. Col. F. A. Devoe was the proprietor and he set the young printer to work and he remained there for a few years. He then accepted a position in the office of the Ulster Republican at Kingston, owned and edited by Solomon S. Hommel, later changed to the Kingston Argus. During this time Daniel Bradbury located the Press in John street and Mr. Heath worked off his first edition. Considerable controversy was carried on between the two papers and Mr. Hommel dubbed the Press man "The Joker." Some time later Mr. Heath was called to Monticello to work and after working in the Watchman and Republican offices he went to Ellenville and entered the Journal office, remaining some years. In 1870, Hon. Thomas E. and Gilbert H. Benedict came to Ellenville and started the South Ulster Press, now the Ellenville Press. The office was then located over the hardware store now of George R. Van Aken. It was thought to be by many a dubious adventure but proved to be a success from the outset. On September 2, 1870, Mr. Heath pulled off the first edition on the hand press, a token, 248 sheets, an "hug" being considered very a fair price. In 1893 the establishment was purchased by W. C. McNally, the present owner, was fully equipped with all modern machinery, and with this office Mr. Heath continued until his retirement about ten years ago.

On February 27, 1867, Mr. Heath was united in marriage to Lydia Ann Monroe of Monticello, daughter of William and Martha Monroe, by Rev. William Bloomer, of the M. E. Church, and they lived to celebrate their 60th wedding anniversary in Ellenville on Monday, February 27, 1917. To this union were born seven children, five sons and two daughters. Two boys died at an early age and Martha L., wife of Willis Osterhout, in 1885. Surviving are the daughter at whose home he died and three sons, George H. Heath of Middletown, William A. and Henry F. of Ellenville. Mr. Heath for many years had been a consistent member of the M. E. Church of Ellenville, a member of the official board, serving as secretary many years. He was a devout Christian, always active along all lines of church work, for years active in conducting Sunday school and prayer service work in nearby villages, Briggs street, The Cape and Oak Ridge, and when the chapel was built on the east side of the village assisted in the Sunday school work there. It was his pleasure to return to Ellenville each year during the summer or autumn time and take his accustomed seat in the church and prayer service and greet old friends by the friendly grasp of the hand.

The body was taken to Ellenville and the funeral held at his home church Monday afternoon at 1:30. The service was conducted by Rev. A. Dana, pastor of the church. Interment in the family plot in the Ellenville cemetery.

Wintered Quits.

The Poughkeepsie-Highland ferry brincheroff is now tied up by the heavy ice in the river. The last regular trip was made on Saturday. Several trips were made yesterday without carrying any passengers. Last night the boat was tied up and no trips were attempted today. Workmen in the employ of the ferry company are now engaged in placing bridges for the accommodation of the public so that crossing on the ice may be effected. The bridge on the east side of the river will be placed at the old brewery dock while on the west side it will be placed on the dock of the Central Hudson Steamboat Company.

Play Roundabout Game Tonight.

Owing to the storm last evening the game of basketball which was to have been played at the Roundabout Casino between the Central and Ulster Stars of Kingston was postponed until tonight. A. J. Smith will leave for the Kingston post office at 7:30. Those having tickets for the game can see them tonight. Dancing will follow the game.

Wishes Will Speak.

Senator Charles W. Walker of this city will be one of the speakers at the formal opening and dedication of the addition to the New Paltz Normal School which will be held Friday, February 6.

SUGAR 14 CENTS TO WHOLESALER

American Sugar Co. Announces Price of New Crop—Delivered 600,000,000 Pounds to Domestic Trade Since September—Price Never Over 9 Cents Since September, 1918.

The American Sugar Bulletin of January 16, contains the following statement by Earl D. Babst, president of the American Sugar Refining Company:

At the present time five of our six refineries are closed. Cargoes of new crop raw sugars are now arriving and we will gradually resume our normal refining operations, on the reliance that it is the purpose of the government that the refining and sale of sugar shall return to its normal customary operation.

Following the custom of the trade in normal times we are accordingly announcing an opening price on bulk granulated sugar refined from new crop raw sugars at 15 (fifteen) cents a pound, f. o. b. refinery less 2 per cent cash discount, based on the present market for new crop raw sugar. This means a net price to the wholesale trade of less than 14 cents a pound.

While we have been offered export business for 1920 delivery in great volume, yet so far we have declined all this foreign business, holding our refining capacity for domestic business until sugar conditions in this country became easier.

During the year 1919 just closed we have delivered more sugar to the domestic trade than in several years. Since the start of the present sugar shortage last September we have delivered over 500,000,000 (five hundred million) pounds of refined sugar to the domestic trade, being an average of 125,000,000 (one hundred and twenty-five million) pounds per month. In December, the month of shortest supplies, we delivered over 22,000,000 (twenty-two million) pounds, and during the first twelve days of January we have delivered over 14,000,000 (fourteen million) pounds. A large part of these deliveries have been made since the establishment of distributing zones on October 16, limiting our deliveries to the territory east of the Pittsburgh-Buffalo line. All these deliveries have been at the government price of 9 cents f. o. b. refinery less 2 per cent cash discount to the wholesale and manufacturing trade, a price which has been in effect without change since September 9, 1918, a period of over 16 months.

COUNTY COURT CASES GO OVER

County Court convened Monday afternoon before Judge Joseph M. Fowler at the court house. There was no jury in attendance, the jury having been excused until next week when trial week will be taken up.

On motion of Mayor Canfield two of the criminal cases on the calendar were put over the term. The cases against Bregman and The People vs. Castiglione, both assault cases. The Clout case was also put over the term.

There was no extra panel of jurors drawn Monday afternoon and court took a recess until Wednesday afternoon, when the extra panel will be drawn if at that time it is deemed necessary.

An Elastic Taste.

Newburgh has a rubber destroying dog. Wherever there are swinging doors protected by rubber strips the canine has succeeded in tearing off and chewing the strips for a height of about two feet. On Saturday the dog made its appearance at the post office and would have performed the same rubber stripping process had it not been that the custodian caught the animal in time to stop it. The destruction done at the several places has necessitated the adjusting of new weather strips.

Central Motion Directors.

At the annual election of directors for the Central Hudson Steamboat Company, held at their office in Newburgh Monday, the following were chosen by the stockholders: Benjamin B. Odell, S. H. Platt, Hiram R. Odell, Francis N. Bain, Homer S. Ransdell, Livingston Platt, Samuel A. Crum, L. M. Lequer, Newton Rodell, Herbert Roe Odell, Walter S. Carver. No other business was transacted. The organization of the board will take place later.

Finger Cracked.

Robert Thornton of Elm street, Saugerties, had the third finger on his left hand severely crushed and cut in getting it caught in an automobile door on Sunday. When the accident occurred "Rob" was enroute to this city. He had the injury dressed at the Kingston City Hospital and two stitches were necessary to close the cut.

No Cause for Action.

The jury in the action brought by the Deane Manufacturing Company, Poughkeepsie, against the Central Hudson Steamboat Company for $619.26 for five pieces of blue serge which it was claimed had been damaged from New York to Poughkeepsie, brought in a verdict of no cause for action.

ASSEMBLY JUDICIARY COMMITTEE TURNS DOWN HUGHES GROUP

Refuses Bar Ass'n Advice to Reseat Socialists Pending Trial—Martin Overrules Hillquit Motions Challenging Cuvillier—Backed by Stanchfield.

By Telegram to The Freeman. State Capitol, Albany, N. Y., Jan. 30.—The proceedings in the assembly of the state of New York to oust five Socialist assemblymen became, at its opening this morning, a trial of the judiciary committee and even of the assembly itself, instead of a trial of the five Socialists.

Disregarding the advice of a committee of eminent jurists from the city of New York, headed by Charles Evans Hughes, representing the New York City Bar Association, that the assemblymen reseat the five Socialists until they are found guilty of unworthiness to act in the assembly and refusing, by a vote of seven to four, two not voting, to permit those jurists to act as friends of the committee, the judiciary committee heard Mr. Hughes declare that there was doubt of the constitutionality of the assembly, as now organized, with 145 members instead of 150, and then saw him and his colleagues arise dramatically and leave the assembly chamber.

Louis M. Martin, formerly deputy attorney general of the state, member of the famous Lusk committee, which for many months has been investigating radicalism in the state, was an adamant chairman. He overruled several motions of Morris Hillquit, attorney for the ousted assemblymen, which challenged the right of the judiciary committee to act as judges. Hillquit charged that Louis Cuvillier ought to "serve as an executioner rather than as a judge." In view of Cuvillier's statement on the assembly floor that the Socialists, "If found guilty, ought to be shot," Martin overruled a challenge against Cuvillier to act as a judge.

John B. Stanchfield, one of the attorneys for the state, seemed to be backing up the immovable stand of Chairman Martin, when he declared he was convinced that the state would prove that the ousted Socialists had been guilty of all that had been charged against them.

The entire forenoon, and part of this afternoon, was devoted to discussion of whether the Socialists could be tried by the assembly.

The chagrin of the members of the Bar Association of New York city, who left the assembly chamber, was marked. They gathered near the assembly entrance and talked excitedly among themselves.

"I haven't anything more to say," said Hughes to a reporter. "You have the statement we gave to the assemblymen. That ought to be enough."

"Are you going back to New York?" he was asked. "I don't see why we should stay here," he said. "They have refused to hear us."

The gist of the Bar Association's claim was as follows: "That after the oath has been administered to a member of the assembly and he has been admitted to the privileges of the house he can not be deprived of those privileges except by expulsion and that a member can not be expelled except upon proper charges and after due opportunity to be heard."

The brief presented by the Bar Association committee insisted that the five Socialists had been duly elected and had taken part in organizing the house and in selection of the speaker. After they had been permitted to act thus far in the assembly procedure they were then declared unseated.

Claim Cuvillier Blamed.

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 30.—"Oust our judges before you oust us," is the cry with which the five Socialist assemblymen and their counsel started in to the fight for their seats in the New York state assembly today.

The declaration of Louis Cuvillier, New York City Democrat, old time member of the assembly, and also a member of the judiciary committee, which is to try the five Socialists, that these men if guilty of the charges "ought to be shot," is a basis for the Socialists' claim that their judges are biased.

Many members of the assembly, of both parties, regret the hot declaration of Cuvillier. If the Socialists and their battery of lawyers, have their way the first move in the great fight which is scheduled to begin today at Albany will be to remove Cuvillier, at least from the judiciary committee.

Cuvillier's statement, made heatedly from the floor, is only one indication of the temper of the assembly members.

Hottest Fight in Years.

"This is the hottest fight I have ever seen on the assembly floor," said an assemblyman of long standing, this morning. "This is going to be a long and a bitter affair."

"The length and the bitterness of it only depends on how long our money holds out," explained one of the Socialist party leaders from New York City.

The dozen Socialists who are re-elected at the Ten Eyck Hotel with the phrase "Change in Government" written after their names, Gorky being the treasurer of the Socialist party in New York, are sitting on their ex-peditions as, up to the present time, they have been able to collect only $5,000 to make the Albany fight.

AN OLD FASHIONED WINTER IS THIS

Thermometers Registered From 8 to 18 Below Zero This Morning—Coldest Night So Far This Winter—Ice-men Sore of a Harvest—Fine Sleighing.

With thermometers about town registering from 8 to 18 degrees below zero early risers today discovered that they had slept through the coldest night so far experienced this winter, and it reminded them of the extremely severe winter of two years ago, when it was a common occurrence for the thermometer to register 20 below the zero mark.

Early in the fall weather prophets of more or less renown began to foretell that the approaching winter would be an open one with but little cold weather. They based their prognostications upon the fact that the bees had not stored away as much honey as usual, and that the squirrels had not laid up a sufficient supply of nuts. There is either one or two things the matter with the bees and squirrels. They either guessed wrong and now have to go without eating, or they had a sufficient supply of food left over from the mild winter of 1918-19.

Folks who like to recall the old fashioned winters of the days of their youth must confess that the present winter is up to the old time standard with plenty of snow and ice, and lots of cold weather thrown in for good measure. Indications are that the ice houses will be filled with ice of fine quality, but that is no indication that the price will be any lower next summer.

There has been and is plenty of good sleighing and skating, and this is the first winter in some time where the old snow shovel has not been given a vacation. It has been taken out of the moth balls early in the winter and has been in constant use ever since.

While ordinary folks shiver in the winter breezes the ice men, the coal men and the plumbers are wearing the smile that won't rub off.

Roadout Rubber Co. Election.

The Roadout Rubber Company, Inc., at annual meeting of stockholders held January 13, at 53 John street, elected as directors Calvin Tompkins, Jr., F. E. Towaler, H. T. Clegg, William N. Paulsen, Frederick Tompkins, Franklin H. Miles, F. C. Brannan, J. F. Mac Cormack. The inspectors of election were William D. Brinley, Jr., and Palmer Canfield, Jr.

Cold? Read This.

At the reservoir of the Saugerties water system at Blue Mountain, at 8 o'clock Monday morning, the thermometer recorded 26 below zero.

Let's Hope So.

There will be a new moon tomorrow which according to local weather prophets should bring milder weather.

Filled with richly dressed ladies. Charles E. Hughes was present. The opening hour, 10:30, found every seat filled and many standing.

The press seats were crowded with correspondents from many parts of the country.

Speeches by Hughes and Tamm.

The first move of Speaker Sweet was to call all debate on an effort to reseat the five Socialists. Two resolutions by William C. Ames were read. One provided that the five Socialists be re-seated until after trial. The other provided that because the assembly now numbers only 145 while the constitution provides a membership of 150, any action taken by the assembly will be unconstitutional and that therefore no money be voted or any action be taken until the five Socialists were seated.

Speaker Sweet said that the debate on these resolutions must be postponed over week.

GAVE TO CHILD CLOTHING FUND

The holiday season throughout the county districts was an exceptionally happy one this year, thanks to the Children's Clothing Fund of Ulster county.

Early in the season the tuberculosis nurses, discovering a great lack of warm clothing in the county, asked that the people of Kingston might be given an opportunity to contribute clothing and money to a fund to relieve this necessity.

Dr. Mary Gage-Day, secretary of the committee, was asked to receive the money and articles of clothing and the following is a complete report.

Jiffy-Cup Free

An Aluminum Measuring Cup

Also Dessert Molds

Send us two trade-marks from Jiffy-Jell packages—the circle trade-marks on the front. That will certify that you use Jiffy-Jell.

We will mail you this half-pint cup. It is an exact cup for use with any ice. And two fillings with water dissolve one package of Jiffy-Jell exactly right.

The flavors come in liquid form, in bottles. They are juices of crushed fruit concentrated.

Jiffy-Jell has a wealth of fruit flavor. We use half a pineapple, for instance, to flavor a pint dessert. The Pineapples are crushed in Hawaii—fruit too ripe to ship. It is real fruit, not mere flavor, that folks like and need.

11 Other Molds

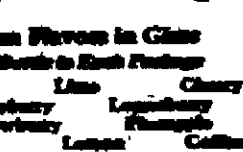

With the Jiffy-Cup we will send you pictures of eleven other molds—dessert and salad molds.

All these molds are sent free to users of Jiffy-Jell.

We want you to have them. We want Jiffy-Jell served attractively.

It's Real Fruit

Jiffy-Jell means a real-fruit dessert. It is not like the old-style gelatin desserts.

ST. REMY.

St. Remy, Jan. 19.—Rev. Philip Yunkers, a college mate of Rev. L. Appeldoorn, gave a most interesting talk on Sunday afternoon. He was chaplain in the American army in France and related some of his experiences while there.

We are having zero weather for a few days with plenty of snow. The high wind on Sunday caused it to drift in places.

Charles L. Thompson has moved to his farm in the south of the village. The net receipts of the New England supper on Wednesday night were $14.25.

Luthe Freer who was ill last week is convalescent.

Mr. Wootton and family of Brooklyn have moved into David Ackerman's house.

Simon Van Vleet who hurt his knee while working on the ice, is able to get around.

There were very few autos on the road on Sunday. The stages are still running and will continue to do so unless the snow gets too deep.

The C. E. next Sunday night will be led by Mrs. Edgar Ellsworth.

THINK IT OVER.

Since the five Socialists were suspended by the Assembly there has been any amount of discussion relative to the merits of the case, opinion being divided as to whether the members of the lower branch of the state law-making department acted wisely in bringing the Socialists to trial before permitting them to take their seats. Were the trial over any citizen would have a perfect right to express an opinion, but as it is, before a line of testimony has been taken, it would seem as if judgment were being rendered prematurely.

There has been unlimited controversy over the manner in which the Socialists were suspended and it may be that eventually it will be shown that another method should have been used. But, on the other hand, it may be proved conclusively that the legislators were wholly consistent for when all is said and done the whole problem will be settled in the minds of the people by the evidence that will be taken. If it is proved to the satisfaction of the people that the suspended Socialists were disloyal, the method used in bringing them to trial will soon be forgotten. Of this there is not a question of doubt.

So it would really seem as if it would be more consistent to wait until the testimony is in to render an opinion than it would be to hand down a decision at this time. There is one thing certain and that is the trial is not over. It has hardly started and until more of the true facts are known nobody high or low, great or small can say what will be brought out. And until the facts are before the people no one will be qualified to "convict" the legislators or to "convict" the Socialists.

MOTOR BANDITS.

There is a theory that the stress and strain of modern life inseparable from civilization's advance, and in spite of its improved sanitation, are responsible for new diseases more complicated than the old. There appears to be basis for another theory, with equally paradoxical foundation, that in proportion as civilization advances crime increases—an increase due to the creation of new opportunities. Consider, for example, what the ubiquitous automobile of our day has done for the bandit. No longer are bandits restricted to thinly populated regions where the law's machinery works slowly or ineffectively. No longer do they find it necessary to obstruct and hold up trains at remote points so that when the job is complete they can fade into the depths of trackless forests. The motor car creates far richer fields of endeavor, abounding in opportunities, in the very centers of population. Almost every day we read of the successful looting of banks and jewelry shops by motor bandits in our largest cities.

Without the motor car—one of modern civilization's greatest triumphs—such raids under the very nose of the police would be impossible. The motor car provides a most convenient and effective get-away. While one innocent-looking man sits in the car keeping it in readiness for a quick jump, his three or four confederates step into the bank or jewelry store, pull their guns, order all hands up, grab the loot, back out, jump into the car, speed away and are soon hidden behind the screen of a great city's crowded traffic. One of the latest robberies, typical of many, occurred in the Overbrook section of Philadelphia. Timing their job at a favorable hour, the bandits looted the bank of $4,000 in cash and $2,000 in Liberty bonds and got away without the least difficulty. As usual, while one man kept the motor running outside, four other men entered the bank, carried the cash, teller and photographer with drawn revolvers, and promptly did their work. Even the entrance of two of the bank's customers did not interrupt them. For those also were at once scared off. The looting was complete with only a jump. The job complete, the bandits took back to get the two automobiles out of the bank before the police could get them. They were then driven out of the city.

jumped into the car and dashed away. Robin Hood, Dick Turpin, the other highwaymen of old, even the more modern train robbers of the Jesse James type, are all eclipsed by these less truly daring but far more successful motor bandits of the present day, who owe both their opportunities and their success to industrial civilization's great servant—the automobile. As a crime breeder and reliable aid, as a creator of opportunity, the automobile is without a parallel. Shall we therefore abolish the automobile? With one voice American industrialism will answer, no—it is impossible! Yet such a demand is logically to be expected of reformers and lawmakers who studiously consider what they should next prohibit with a view to legislate morality into the people.

In England even the hangman demands more pay, giving as part of his grievance that he is no longer allowed to sell the goose after it has done its work. Formerly the hangman's rope has sold in bits to morbid curiosity hunters and to persons confessing the curious belief that certain ailments could be cured by rubbing the affected parts with a bit of the rope that had broken a convict's neck.

ROXBURY LOST

To Fleischmanns Team For First Defeat in Several Years.

Fleischmanns basketball five beat Roxbury on the latter's court Friday night in a fast game by the score, 21-15. This is the first game Fleischmanns has won from Roxbury in several years, but the speed and team work of the Fleischmanns five soon proved to the crowd that Roxbury's reign was over.

The Fleischmanns quintet forced the play throughout the first half and led by a 16-5 score at intermission. Roxbury trailed at the opening of the second half and soon brought their score up, but Fleischmanns lead was never headed.

Faulkner again starred for Fleischmanns with 17 of the 21 points to his credit. Persons and Jocelyn, the guards played an excellent game and at no time were the Roxbury team able to break through their defense to an advantage. Barrett and Shaver played their usual fast game, but were watched very closely by the Roxbury guards. For Roxbury, Brownell and Johnson were the leading factors in scoring points. This is Fleischmanns high school's fourth straight victory. The lineup: Fleischmanns (21)—Brownell right forward; Johnson, left forward; Muller, center; Bouton, right guard; Hindman, left guard. Roxbury (15)—Brownell right forward; Johnson, left forward; Muller, center; Bouton, right guard; Hindman, left guard. Referee, Scindler; scorer, Banker; timer, Bookbinder.

INCOME TAX INFORMATION

Following are answers to questions relative to the state income tax as prepared by State Comptroller Eugene M. Travis. The office for this district is located on the second floor of the building on Broadway, formerly occupied by the Weiser Hotel.

174. Investor: If one who trades in stocks and bonds enters in the proper column on Form 201, after letter "a" of inquiry 27, the loss or gain from sales or exchanges of stocks and bonds, will that be accepted by the department even though the taxpayer fail to enter the information called for after letters "a" and "b" of the same inquiry; that is (a) sale price for fair market value of property received in exchange; and (b) the cost (or fair market value on January 1, 1919, if acquired prior thereto)?

A. The department will accept returns where only the resultant gain or loss is stated, but the taxpayer must be in a position to establish, if called upon to do so, the sale price (or fair market value of property received in exchange) and the cost (or fair market value on January 1, 1919) and must keep and preserve the records or reports from which the accuracy of his return can be verified.

175. Flatbush: I am selling goods on a commission. As a married man, if I get more than $2,000 a year but have to pay my railroad fare, postage and telegrams which bring it under that amount, do I have to make out a report?

A. If the items mentioned by you are proper business expenses and reduce your net income to an amount less than $2,000, as a resident married person you would not be required to file a return.

176. Finger Lakes: Am I allowed to deduct money paid out for the following purposes:

(a) A milk house.
(b) Putting water buckets in barn.
(c) Putting lightning rods on my barn.

(d) Amounts paid for pasturing young stock.
(e) Board for hired help.

(f) Any deductions for amount paid on principal of mortgage.

A. (a) No, this is a permanent investment.
(b) Yes, on the assumption that this was a minor expense not tending to prolong the useful period of the barn.

(c) Yes.
(d) Not for produce which you grow on the farm, but for any fodder which you are obliged to buy.

(e) Yes, with same qualifications as "d".
(f) No. This is an investment of capital.

177. Schenectady: Is a resident whose wife lives in Europe and to whom he has been sending money for support during 1919, given a $2,000 exemption?

A. If the wife is abroad for a temporary period and is not permanently living apart from her husband the $2,000 exemption would be granted. On the other hand, if she has been continuously residing in Europe and has no intention of living with her husband the $2,000 exemption would not be permitted.

178. Clergyman: (a) Is income taxable received from industrial bonds which are exempt under the Federal law because the 2% tax is paid at source?

(b) I draw a pension as a retired minister, coming from church sources. Is that taxable?

A. (a) If you are a resident such interest is taxable income to you and is not affected by the payment of the tax at the source by the corporation to the Federal Government.
(b) Yes.

179. Worker: I am a resident of this state but not a citizen. I am the chief support of my wife and three children under twelve years of age who live in Italy May I claim a personal exemption of $2,000 as a married man, and $200 for each dependent child?

A. No. The fact that you are supporting your wife abroad does not entitle you to the $2,000 exemption as a married man living with wife. You would receive $1,000 exemption if a resident; as a single man, and $200 for each child living abroad, provided they are under eighteen years of age and dependent upon you for support.

180. Farmer: In 1919 I sold my old cows which I had for $400 but soon afterwards sold $700 for some new stock. Is the difference between these amounts a taxable expense?

A. No. Any amount expended in purchasing live stock either for resale or breeding purposes, is regarded as an investment of capital.

181. Receiver: During 1919 I was a receiver of an industrial concern, appointed by the United States Court for the Southern District of New York, in an equity action. Are my fees paid to me exempt from New York tax?

A. Yes, such fees are specifically exempt from inclusion in gross income by article 28 of the comptroller's regulations.

182. Up-State: In 1919 a corporation in which I am a stockholder, declared an extra dividend payable in notes becoming due in three, six, nine and twelve months. Three of these notes have been paid in full while the last is to be paid in 1920. How do I treat this 1920 note?

A. If you believe the note due in 1920 will be redeemed for its face value at maturity, you should properly treat it as income for its face value in your 1919 return. If, on the other hand, you should believe it is in excess of the amount of its face value, less discount, computed at the prevailing rate for such transactions, in case you report the discount value and it is paid in full at maturity, you should include an amount in your return for 1920 the amount which represents the discount originally deducted.

183. Coupons: Because of absence in Europe from 1918 to 1919 I did not get company on some bonds of a mining company. They were issued in 1915. Are they taxable for that year?

A. Such amounts are not taxable if all were payable prior to January 1, 1919, to be included in your 1919 return.

184. Attorney: I am a practicing attorney in Schenectady. By federal appointment I received separate deductions to take deductions in return for 1919 the amount which represents the discount originally deducted.

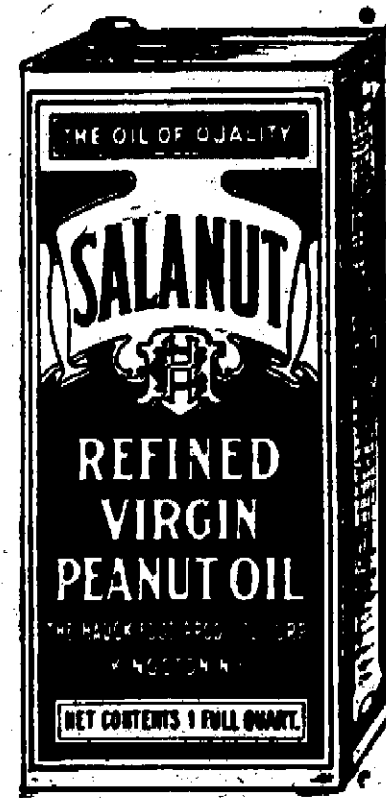

185. Receiver: During 1919 I was a receiver of an industrial concern, appointed by the United States Court for the Southern District of New York, in an equity action. Are my fees paid to me exempt from New York tax?

A. Yes, such fees are specifically exempt from inclusion in gross income by article 28 of the comptroller's regulations.

What's In 'a Name?

There's a difference in people and things just as there is in their names. That's why we remember the name.

By its name, SALANUT suggests salad and nuts.

There is more than the name to SALANUT.

There is rich quality, purity, cleanliness.

Its fluid form saves time, work, worry, money.

The characteristic peanut flavor is removed by refining.

In that way SALANUT becomes the ideal shortening for baking, cooking, frying.

Cleanliness and purity in refining and further assured by the hermetically sealed tin can.

Ask your grocer for SALANUT.

A Child's Soft Teeth
Are Easily Injured

The teeth of young children are not yet thoroughly calcified; many have naturally soft, chalky teeth.
Many tooth pastes contain pumice, powdered oyster shell, acid-calculiphosphate, Prof. Gies of Columbia College found one of these which was enough to scratch glass! It is a real danger to mothers to be careful.
A great many professional men al-

Kreider, professor of chemistry at Albodon is calcium carbonate,

DRY TIMES MAKE FOR QUIET TIMES

City Judge Schirick Has Not Issued a Warrant This Year, and But Few Summons—An Arrest Would Be an Event in Police Circles.

Gone to the limbo of forgotten things is the usual Saturday night round up of drunks, and since the first of the year City Judge Schirick has not even issued a warrant for an arrest. As for the police, an arrest nowadays would be an event, for since the first day of the year but one offender was gathered in.

With the sudden falling off in the number of drunks arrests for minor crimes such as disorderly conduct, petit larceny, etc., have also taken a decided slump, and it would seem that the demise of old John Barleycorn has lessened the usual number of petty crimes in Kingston.

In the past it has been the custom of City Judge Schirick to issue a summons in any complaint that he did not believe of sufficient importance to issue a warrant of arrest. By means of summoning the parties to a private session in his office the judge has been able to get both sides of a story, and if the facts warranted it would then have an arrest made. Since the first of the year there has been a sudden dropping off in the number of those summoned to the city hall.

AT THE THEATRES.

Good Musical Show at Opera House—
Fine Bill at Keene's.

March's Musical Comedy Company opened a week's engagement at the Kingston Opera House yesterday to very good sized audiences who braved the snow storm to enjoy that big musical success, "The Three Twins," which was very ably presented by a well balanced company. The company will present a musical farce tonight based on Rud Fisher's cartoon comics, "For the Love of Mike," and tomorrow Raymond Hitchcock's big
New York success, "The Beauty Shout."

"The Law of Men," the newest
Paramount picture to feature Ethel Bennett will be presented at the Auditorium tonight. It presents a story of a love affair in Greenwich Village (New York's Bohemia), and before it emerges to a fitting conclusion a novel criminal case is introduced that holds the spectator in a tight embrace. A Billy West comedy and Hearst News Weekly are added attractions. Tomorrow House Peters in
"You Never Know Your Luck."

Alaska is a country which offers a never-ending source of fertility to the imagination of Rex Beach. In "The Girl From Outside," his latest Goldwyn Picture, which will be shown at Keene's theatre for the last time tonight, he never overlaps on any of his previous northern themes.
The story of a girl who, orphaned on her way to Nome, Alaska, finds herself set down there in a time when riot and vice ran rampant, is a powerful presentation of life in the wild and woolly north of Klondike days. Also a Mack Sennett Comedy, Burton
Holmes Travelogue and Kinogram News. Tomorrow Dorothy Dalton in
"The Market of Souls."

JOY CARNIVAL

Free Tonight—Sills Stayed—Contest
Winners.

The announcement made by the management of the World of Joy Carnival at Mechanics' Hall last evening that there would be free dancing and no admission to the hall or no admission to the vaudeville this evening, caused considerable comment by the crowd which attended the carnival last evening.

Three acts of vaudeville which were presented last evening were highly appreciated by the people and all of the acts were not able to work as they did not arrive until the 9 o'clock train from New York. An entire change of program will be presented tonight and four feature acts will be presented.

Iron Neck Mott wrestled a five minute match with Harry Sills and Sills stayed for five minutes. Mott immediately challenged him for a ten minute bout this evening and was accepted.

A girl with a blue skirt and a white waist, who would not give her name, won the pictures for the present in the hall last evening. A prize contest will take place tonight and several other prizes will be awarded.

In the diamond ring contest Benjamin Parker, with 4,000 votes, took first place from Louise Myers, who now has 2,600 votes. Gertrude Evans has 2,600 votes while Julia Roche has 2,400 votes. The carnival will continue throughout the week, closing on Saturday night.

Concert Suggestions.

at Keene's on Sunday last was the best ever. As a suggestion, would accompaniment and to the variety

New York, over a kiss is on the agenda of the court calendar. In Hurd's complaint, for $100,000, Wednesday

she was humiliated and ordered out of the hotel after kissing and hus-

Hackett and Barrientos in Exquisite Rigoletto Love Duet

These exclusive Columbia artists make a marvelous vocal combination in "E il Sol dell'Anima," the matchless duet of the Duke and Gilda from Verdi's Rigoletto. His seductive pleading and her response make this the supreme love aria of one of the greatest of all operas.

49616—$2.00

Grainger Sparkles in "Polish Dance"

That enticing melodious mixture of blitheness and pathos, Scharwenka's "Polish Dance in E Flat Minor," ripples forth alluringly under Percy Grainger's lightsome touch. On the reverse this exclusive Columbia artist renders that popular favorite by Grieg, "To the Springtime," and his own sailor's chanty, "One More Day, My John."

A-6128—$1.50

Seidel's Violin Sobs "Eili, Eili"

A marvelous feat of musicianship is this exclusive Columbia artist's rendering of "Eili, Eili," that age-old agonized cry to heaven. Actually human cries of despair, the wailing and sobs of multitudes, are in the tones of Toscha Seidel's violin.

Old Gregory has Driving Power

Sixty-five years old, but still keen and active, a power in business and among friends. What is at the back of his "drive"?

It's health—lungs sound, blood pressure normal. And back of his health are regular habits—proper elimination. Yes, it's habit. This habit of regular bowel evacuation that keeps "old" young. The poisons of constipation effect most destructive changes in the body than perhaps any other cause. They stem free of these poisons by habitual, easy movements.

If you have difficulty in cultivating this habit, remember that by an entirely new principle Nujol will keep the poisonous matter moving out of the body. Every other form of treatment either irritates or forces the system. Nujol works on the waste matter instead of on the system.

Nujol prevents constipation by keeping the food waste soft, thus helping nature to establish easy, thorough bowel evacuation at regular intervals—the healthiest habit in the world. It is absolutely harmless and pleasant to take—try it.

Nujol is sold by all druggists in sealed bottles only, bearing Nujol trade-mark. Write Nujol Laboratories, Standard Oil Co. (New Jersey), 50 Broadway, New York, for booklet "Thirty Feet of Danger."

THE SALVATION ARMY

Great Soul Saving Time Tonight At Army Hall.

Brigadier W. G. Anderson, divisional officer of Eastern New York state with headquarters at Albany, will have charge of the meeting at the Salvation Army hall tonight. The brigadier is well known in Kingston having made quite a few visits here in his official capacity. He is a big man, both physically and spiritually, and is looked upon as one of the best of the army's soul winners. He is an officer with vast experience which enables him to reach and hold people as he preaches.

During the meeting tonight he will swear in as senior soldiers of the local corps, Mrs. J. DuBois and Mrs. John Gedney. The newly organized band will be to the front and render several selections. This meeting has been looked forward to for some time by the comrades of the Kingston corps and a splendid meeting is expected which will be an answer to the prayers that have been raised.

The fragrance of a thought may rise

As still as violets by the brook—
A thing too rare to set in books,
Or cage in song.

EASY LUNCHEON DISHES.

A dish or luncheon which is not too hearty but sufficiently sustaining will be found in the following:

Curried Salmon.—Chop a small onion fine and fry brown in one tablespoonful of butter. Mix one teaspoonful of curry powder with one tablespoonful of flour and a pinch of salt. Stir into the butter. Add slowly one cupful of hot water, stirring briskly. When the sauce is thick add one cupful of flaked salmon and cook until the whole is thoroughly hot.

Salt Fish Hash.—Use salt mackerel, herring or codfish left from breakfast. Mix with an equal quantity of cold mashed potato and warm in the frying pan with a little butter, adding a bit of grated onion for seasoning. The fish and potato may be made into flat cakes and fried brown in butter, or the hash may be baked in ramekins, filled two-thirds full and an egg broken into each dish. Bake in a hot oven until the egg is set.

Breaded Tongue.—Slice cold cooked tongue very thin; dip the slices in beaten egg, then in bread crumbs and cook in deep fat. Serve with tomato sauce.

Stew of Oysters and Celery.—Dissolve a teaspoonful of beef extract in two cupfuls of boiling water. Add two cupfuls of milk, a tablespoonful of butter, salt, pepper and mace for seasoning. Add a cupful of finely cut celery and simmer until the celery is tender. Add a cupful of oysters, parboiled in their own liquor, and half a cupful of cracker crumbs. Bring to a boil and serve at once.

Baked Sardines.—This twelve large sardines; bring to a boil in a little water, reserving the oil which was drained from the fish. Add a cupful of water, a tablespoonful each of Worcestershire, made mustard and vinegar, with salt and pepper to taste. Arrange the fish on a platter which will bear the heat of the oven, and bake. When the sauce is boiling hot add a beaten egg yolk and stir until thick. Pour the sauce over the fish and serve at once.

All Furs Now at Reduced Prices

Those Who Were Wishing for an Opportunity to Purchase Beautiful Furs at an Actual Savings in Cost, Cannot Afford to Let This Chance Go By When They Are Met With the Best Values of the Season.

During the former part of this season we had no idea that we would reduce the prices of our Furs. In fact, we even said as much to some of our prospective customers. But, here we are, faced with the annual inventory, and compelled by the need of room to move this stock quickly. Yes, we know that furs in the London and New York markets will be worth up to 50 per cent more next year, and this is giving you a wonderful opportunity. Circumstances alter cases and unforeseen changes and necessary purchases have made it compulsory to lighten our stock of winter furs.

Therefore, we take this opportunity of placing upon our own stock of the loveliest of furs, whose original prices were exceedingly low in comparison to the values, reduced sales prices which give everyone a chance to secure the sort of fur they most desire and which are none the less attractive on account of the price reductions.

The assortment is unusually pleasing, presenting a wide variety of choice furs in stocks that are in high favor. In making your purchase in this assortment, you will find that they are exactly as represented.

It is certainly an opportunity for you to add a charming fur to your wardrobe, and you should be early in making your selections as there are many others who will want them.

MAXWELL Has Won Its Following Through Its Quality

POUND for pound, the metals used in the Maxwell chassis compare favorably with those in the best cars that the world has produced, according to metallurgists.

There is a deep seated reason for this quality in a Maxwell.

For the fundamental purpose of the Maxwell is to carry the same passenger load over the same roads and at the same speeds as larger and more expensive cars.

Its particular mission is to carry this passenger load in an extremely economical way.

Therefore the Maxwell had to be light. But to make it strong as well as light only the very best of materials could be employed.

Hence, the quality metals.

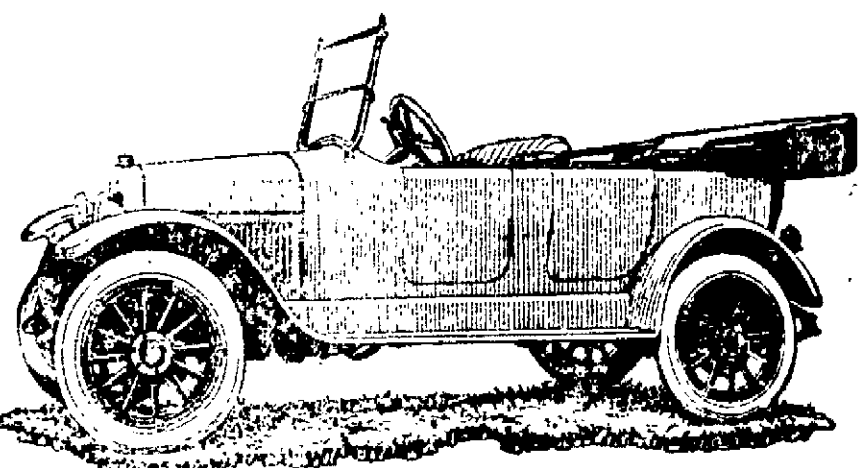

And it was through the quality of its metals that Maxwell developed its following.

This is a following that began five years ago with a foundation of 5,000 and now reaches a mark of 100,000 in 1920.

100,000 Maxwells now on the highways of two continents are a daily endorsement of the merit of this great car.

STILL WORKING ON SEAL REPORT

Final Report on Sales Soon—Company M Thanked for $250.00 Gift and Mr. Gildersleeve for $13.40—Committee Brought Clinics.

There was an important meeting of the executive committee of the Ulster county committee on the prevention of tuberculosis held at the home of the secretary, Dr. Mary Gale-Day, on Monday evening. Besides working on the final report of the Christmas seal sale, the committee transacted some of its important business. The chairman, Judge Joseph M. Fowler, presided at the meeting.

As the reports of the chairman of the county seal sale and of the Ulster county committee on the prevention of tuberculosis were read, it was found that the Christmas seal sale had been successful. The chairman, Judge Joseph M. Fowler, presided at the meeting.

Treasurer Hume reported the receipt of a check for $250.00 from Company M as the result of their success in the sale of the seal. The committee also received a check for $13.40 from Mr. Gildersleeve, manager of the Keeney Theater, as the net proceeds from the entertainment for the fund. The secretary was instructed to send letters of thanks and appreciation to both Company M and Mr. Gildersleeve for the generous contributions.

It was unanimously voted to allow Dr. A. C. Gates, superintendent of the Ulster County Tuberculosis Hospital, to expend $100 in the purchase of badly needed instruments for the hospital.

Another matter was brought to light at this meeting, that should be better known by the people of Kingston and the county at large. It was that the committee has been for the past two months, and will continue to be for the coming year, financially as well as managerially responsible for the threat and chest clinics being held in this city and at stated places in the county. This committee provides both the specialist who makes the examinations at these free clinics, and also the attending nurses. In fact the committee is now providing two special tuberculosis nurses, one for the city and one for that portion of the county outside the city, and often they operate in a most satisfactory manner.

At the last clinic recently held in the city, at the court house, forty-four people were examined, and where necessary were sent to their own physicians or if not having any particular physician were given instructions as to the necessary care and treatment they should pursue and the nurses will follow up the cases. It was the unanimous opinion of the committee, especially of those members longest connected with the work, that the present tuberculosis work carried on by means of these free monthly clinics and tuberculosis nurses is bringing the most satisfactory results of any plan of work yet undertaken by the committee. The results are such as should soon make a decided dent in the tuberculosis situation in this county. They are bound to do so.

Under Ban Cupid to Capture Rhinebeck Lads This Year.

By the way, the Rhinebeck, Jan. 12.—A movement is on foot to organize a leap year society. Marriageable young ladies only are eligible to membership. The purpose of the organization is to round up desirable young men who during the past months have had ample opportunity to prove their gallantry but failed when the critical moment arrived to declare their love. Whether timidity or fearfulness of being turned down accounts for the scarcity of engagement announcements during 1919 is to be ascertained by the new society. The young men are to be given a reasonable time to make good, and if they persist in their backwardness means will be resorted to bring them to their sense of duty. If the plans of the society are carried out as proposed the young men of the town will experience a strenuous year. That there will be a general exodus of young men in the near future is an account of the formation of the new society is drafted.

FEDERAL INCOME TAX SEASON OPEN

The federal income tax season opens today with the distribution of the forms for personal returns from the office of Collector of Internal Revenue Roscoe Irwin.

From now until the bell rings on the night of March 15, the annual returns covering income for 1919 will be figured out and filed by citizens and residents, together with payments of tax due.

The burden of fulfilling this obligation is laid squarely on the shoulders of those who are American citizens or residents. Every person must determine for himself whether his net income for 1919 figured according to the revenue law, was sufficient in amount to require a return. If he is single, a return is required if his net income for 1919 was $1,000 or over. A widow or widower is classified as a single person. A man or woman living apart from his wife or husband is also classified as a single person.

If he was married and living with his wife on December 31, a return is required if his net income for 1919 was $2,000, or over. In his net income he must include that of his wife and minor children, if any. If a tax is due on his income, he must make payment with his return. The filing and payment must be done before midnight of March 15, or he is classified as a delinquent and is subject to severe penalties.

Two forms are being distributed for personal returns. Form 1040A is intended for use by a person whose net income does not exceed $5,000. A larger form, 1040, is intended for each person having a net income in excess of $5,000.

Both of these forms are now obtainable at Internal Revenue offices and at some banks and post offices.

It is urged by the Internal Revenue Bureau that taxpayers obtain their blanks at once. Failure to have a blank form at hand for an eleven-hour return will not relieve a person of penalty for failure to comply with the law.

Each form contains instructions for preparing and filing the return, and those should be carefully read and strictly observed.

There is also provided a "work sheet" which should be used for making the original computations, and which should be retained and preserved by the taxpayer.

Any person who is in doubt on points affecting his particular case, should bring such matters to the attention of the nearest deputy collector or revenue agent, who will render every necessary aid without charge.

When the return is completed, it should be properly executed and immediately filed. Any internal revenue officer will administer the necessary oath without charge.

It is pointed out that accuracy in compiling the return is absolutely necessary. Mere guesses and estimates as to income and deductions should be avoided, and actual facts and amounts should be set forth. And this is equally important in considering the question of whether a return is required.

MINSTREL MUST BE REPEATED

St. Peter's Glee Club Put on Such a Good Show That Another Performance Next Monday Is Demanded.

The Novelty Minstrel given by the St. Peter's Glee Club at St. Peter's Hall on Monday evening was one of the best amateur performances seen in this city in a long time. From beginning to end it was interesting and entertaining and the large crowd that were present in spite of the inclement weather, was well repaid for the time and money they expended.

One of the big hits of the evening was "Bob" Carter who took the part of the interlocutor and he was a scream. He kept the audience in continued laughter and was ably assisted by a first class set of end men.

Another special feature was the interpretation of "The Vamp" and "The Doll" dance by Miss Cora Shader which received round after round of applause.

By popular request and owing to the fact that a good many who had tickets were unable to be present on account of the weather the play will be repeated again on Monday evening, January 28.

The refreshments were in charge of the Children of Mary Sodality and the Christian Mothers' Society, and the inner person was well taken care of by this amiable group of young ladies. Following the play dancing was enjoyed to the strains of "Cort" Shuter's popular singing orchestra. The program was as follows:

PART I.

Opening Chorus—Entire Company

Baritone Solo—"Carolina Sunshine" Clarence Schryver

End Song—"Bring Back" Joe Miller and Company

EDWARDS MAKES GOOD PROMISE

New Jersey Governor Sworn In—Inaugural Address Asks Legislature to Refuse to Ratify or Accept 18th Amendment—For Sale of Beer and Wines.

By Telegram to The Freeman. Trenton, N. J., Jan. 20.—Edward L. Edwards, Democrat, who was elected governor of New Jersey on a "wet" platform, opened the battle against the eighteenth constitutional amendment in his inaugural address when he was sworn in at noon.

Mr. Edwards is the first Democratic governor New Jersey has had since President Wilson held that office. The new governor holds that the enforcement of prohibition is an invasion of state rights and declared today that he would "do everything lawful in his power to have it determined that the present condition of affairs in respect to prohibition has been forced upon the people of this state illegally."

Governor Edwards indicated that New Jersey will immediately petition the United States supreme court for an early decision on the legality of the enactment of the eighteenth amendment. He urged the state legislature to pass a resolution refusing to "ratify or accept" the amendment. He also asked the immediate enactment of bills permitting the sale of beer and light wines in this state. This, he contended, would insure the people of the state to live under conditions "satisfactory to them."

Referring to the language of the eighteenth amendment, the governor contended that the verbiage made it legally possible for the various states to enforce prohibition in their own way.

HOME SEEKERS IS PROSPEROUS

Annual Report of Association Shows Assets Increased $100,000 During Year—James Tongue New President, Succeeding Dr. Mambert, Who Served Thirty Years.

The annual meeting of the share-holders of the Home-Seekers' Co-operative Savings & Loan Association of the city of Kingston, N. Y., was held on Monday night. The annual report shows the year just past to have been a remarkably gratifying one, assets having increased nearly $100,000, and more than 1,700 shares having been subscribed for during the year. The annual dividend of 6 percent has been credited to all installment shares as of January 1st.

It was announced at the meeting that Dr. A. H. Mambert, who has been president of the association ever since it was organized thirty years ago, requested that he be not re-nominated, and the announcement was received with a great deal of regret. The remarkable success of the association ever since its organization had been due in large measure to the conservative and efficient leadership of Dr. Mambert.

The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: James Tongue, president; Reuben B. DuBois, vice-president; Irvin McCausland, secretary; Charles R. O'Connor, treasurer; Frederick Stephan, Jr., attorney; Henry W. Otis, Allen S. Hammond and Fred J. Walter, directors.

Subscriptions are now being received at the association's office, 23 Broadway, for shares in the 27th street, which opens on Monday, February 2nd.

BOXING BILLS AT ALBANY

One Prohibits For Fifteen Round Division Bouts and If Passed Would Likely Bring Dempsey-Carpenter Fight to New York.

By Telegram to The Freeman. New York, Jan. 20.—The fate of two boxing bills which have today been presented to the New York state legislature at Albany will be watched with keen interest by boxing promoters in this section who are in the race for the Dempsey-Carpenter fight.

One of the bills, introduced by Senator James J. Walker, of New York, would create a state boxing commission and permit fifteen round bouts. Fifteen rounds, it is argued, is practically a "championship" distance. The Army, Navy and Civilian Board of Boxing Control is said to be behind this bill.

The other bill, presented by Assemblyman Harry J. Ross, of Brooklyn, calls for twelve round bouts and also provides for the appointment of a boxing commission. Both bills provide for decisions.

Should either of the bills become a law, it is considered a certainty that the Dempsey-Carpenter fight will be held in the United States. A twelve or fifteen round bout to a decision, it is pointed out, would assure the boxing fans of their money's worth.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

By Telegram to The Freeman. New York, Jan. 20.—The stock market was weak at the opening today, losses ranging from fractions to over four points. Steel Common sold off 1/4 to 103; Crucible 1 point to 202, while fractional declines were suffered in Baldwin and Republic Steel.

The motor shares were under pressure, General Motors dropping 1/2 to 200; Keystone Tire 2 points to 32 1/2; Pierce Arrow 1 point to 58 and Studebaker to 102 1/2. Mexican Petroleum after opening 1 1/2 higher at 195 dropped to 193. Texas Company fell 1/4 to 202 while fractional losses were suffered in Sinclair and Royal Dutch. Dealings in other issues were practically at a standstill.

Trading was practically at a standstill with the tone greatly improved. The market closed strong; government bonds unchanged; railroad and other bonds steady.

SKIRTS AND SHOES

Abbreviated Garment Now Being Worn in New York.

Nothing to Indicate Waning Favor for Long-Vamped Skirt and Pointed Toe.

Just as we are informed that the French women of the more exclusive sort has repented of her abbreviated skirts and is lengthening them, we see here and there on Fifth avenue a woman with skirts cut to what we have been led to believe was the shocking French length, notes a New York fashion writer.

It is disappointing. Not only are we not shocked but we almost hope we shall see others of her kind, and we wonder if there were exotic wanderers from a foreign shore or leaders in the vanguard of an approaching fashion.

There were days when we adopted a French mode in this country six months or a year after it was a commonplace of Paris, but the American woman has held out so stoutly for her longer skirts and long-vamped shoe that it is hard to believe she will at this late day adopt the extremely short skirt any more enthusiastically than she will the short-vamped French sandal.

At present there is nothing to indicate a waning favor for the shoe with the long vamp and sharply pointed toe. It is as dear to us as if it had not made many a chiropodist into a Croesus.

It is, however, possible to purchase a modified version of this slim and sprightly shoe which is warranted to give all the comfort of the short French vamp while retaining the slender lines of the long vamp. Also one can, if one is so inclined, buy a slipper on the veritable French model with the short round-toed vamp and extremely high heel.

The uncompromising low heel is only found on the sport oxford, which is perhaps at its snuggest when built on the flat English last. For the women who find this flat last uncomfortable there is the regulation model built with a higher arch and a slightly higher though still substantial heel.

Such shoes are developed in a wonderfully soft and pliable dark brown Russian calf, with the decoration of perforated wing tips and brass eyelets. Black Russia calf is also procurable for the sport shoe, but is better liked for the walking oxford, which may have a Cuban or military heel. This shoe is also developed in black or brown-glazed kid, and these are oxford models with patent or dull leather vamps and gray buckskin in tops.

A dressier oxford is provided with a higher arch and a high or half-high French heel in brown or black suede, in black satin and in patent leather. The shoe in greatest favor for afternoon or for informal evening wear is justly the colonial pump, with its high point over the instep and its brilliant buckle. There are few shoes more flattering to any foot.

TO MAKE HANDY WORK BASKET

Discarded Receipts, Bright Colored Satin and Wadding Are Principal Articles Necessary.

A most useful way to use up an old basket of any kind, providing it is not broken anywhere, is to make a work basket like one shown in sketch.

To make, get some bright-colored satin (green or red would look particularly well), and cut a piece same shape as bottom of basket, only fully large, so that there is plenty of stuff to allow for quilting. Now get some

PARENTS TO MEET AT HIGH SCHOOL

Fathers and Mothers to Get Together With Faculty for Benefit of Eighth Grade Graduates—Meeting Open to All.

Through letters sent out last week, Superintendent M. J. Michael has invited the mothers and fathers of eighth grade children to meet with him and the high school staff tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock at the high school to discuss the best course to be taken by their children in entering the high school, and to further acquaint the parents with high school work. Principal Lewis and several of the high school faculty will speak, as will a representative of the state department of education. The topic of this representative will be "The New Law Establishing Continuation Schools in All Cities Next September."

In his letter to the parents Superintendent Michael calls attention to the fact that the eighth grade pupil graduating either this term or next, faces the most critical period in his school life. Everything is new; they have several teachers instead of one, and are thrown entirely upon their own responsibilities. Aside from English, most pupils have a rather vague idea of what subjects they shall pursue in their first year, for the choice to a great extent lies with them. Parents also have an indefinite idea of high school work. This meeting was therefore planned to secure the cooperation of the parents. While letters have been sent to parents of eighth grade children only, yet the meeting is open for the general public, and it is hoped by Superintendent Michael that there will be a large attendance. Many parents have already signified their intentions of being present.

FOSTER GO SOUTH

Beckman Arms Proprietors Stop at New York Enroute.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Foster of Rhinebeck have left for a trip to Florida. Enroute they stopped at New York city at the new Pennsylvania Hotel. The following notice appears in The Register, a new little sheet which is published by the hotel management:

"Somewhat unusual interest attaches to the prospective arrival this evening of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Foster of Rhinebeck, New York. Mr. Foster is proprietor of the Beckman Arms at Rhinebeck, which is built around the old Rhinebeck hotel, the oldest hotel in the United States, and still giving excellent service until a year or two ago, when it was re-modelled into the Beckman Arms. From this old hotel with its massive walls and giant fireplace to the largest hotel in the world marks probably the greatest epoch in the world of hotels."

Two Delaware Avenue Hunters.

City Clerk Doremus on Monday issued hunting licenses to Eugene J. Carl of 156 Delaware avenue, and Charles Morris of 464 Delaware avenue.

Town Without Streets.

The smallest dependency of France is the Ile d'Hoëlle, situated at the east of Belle Isle. Its population is 238, and the people do not speak French, but Celtic. Fishing is the principal industry, and all the inhabitants are provided with food at an inn managed by women. The town has no streets and the houses are mostly of mud.

NO SHORTAGE OF GAS IN KINGSTON

The Kingston Gas & Electric Company Report Pressure as Normal—There Are Many Freezers on House Service Lines—Mostly of Gas Being Used.

If the flow of gas in the house is becoming restricted it is not due to a shortage of gas in Kingston, but rather is an indication that the service pipes are beginning to freeze tight during this cold spell. The fact that many householders are finding the gas flow restricted led to the street rumor that there was a shortage of gas in the city. The Kingston Gas & Electric Company stated this noon that there was plenty of gas, and that the pressure was normal. The gas company, however, reports a number of house service pipes being frozen. By that is meant the pipe connecting the main in the street with the pipe in the cellar of the house. The trouble is usually located near the curb where the pipes lie close to the surface. As the frost works down and into the pipes the flow of gas is gradually reduced until it finally ceases when the pipes freeze shut.

On an extremely cold day like today there is also more gas used than on ordinary days, as householders who have gas stoves use them to help out in heating the rooms. That may also have a tendency to reduce the pressure somewhat in certain sections of the city.

NO BRIDGE OVER RIVER AS YET

The bridge placed on the Rhinecliff side of the Hudson river for automobiles and other vehicles by the local Chamber of Commerce, which was removed Saturday at the order of the Central New England Railroad, has not been replaced as yet. It is expected that within a day or so a larger bridge will be placed at the Rhinecliff ferry slip. Until a bridge is in place it is impossible for vehicles of any description to land on the other side of the river. The jitney buses that are now running across the river discharge the passengers at a foot bridge on the other side.

Churches Into Movies.

Conversion of several churches in various parts of England into moving picture theaters has resulted from decreasing church attendance and the consequent disorganization or amalgamation of congregations. At Torquay one former place of worship has been turned into a laundry.

Safe Now.

This little bit of conservation was overheard at the Essex Country Club in Manchester, Mass.:

"How is your husband getting on with his golf?"

"Very well, indeed. The children are allowed to watch him now."—Boston Post.

Mme. Schumann-Heink.

Mme. Ernestine Schumann-Heink, noted prima donna, is ill with pneumonia at her home at Grossmont, a suburb of San Diego, Cal., according to a report from her doctor. Her condition is said to be not serious. Mme. Schumann-Heink was born at Lieben, a small town near Prague, Austria, in 1861. She has been married three times and is the mother of eight children. Her contralto voice, possessing the richest tone and power, has often been declared the greatest of all time. When the World War broke out Mme. Schumann-Heink found two-fold sorrow as her lot. One of her sons was serving on a German submarine, while another was in the German army, and four remaining sons were in the service of the United States, three in the army and one in the navy. Despite her sorrows, she did whatever she could to assist in charitable entertainments and in singing for the men under arms in various cantonments in this country.
